

Best care for your most vulnerable patients

the GSF Silver Course for End of Life Care

A two day course with support and homework between workshops to enable your practice team to care better for all vulnerable patients in the final years of life. Open for GPs and all team members, this course includes useful interactive teaching, practical tools and resources and simple measures ensuring real and sustainable improvements in patient care.

*With last year's AUA DES are your GPs
'hitting the target but missing the point?'*

Preventing just one hospital admission can save over £3,200 (NAO figures) - enough to fund training for many practices. This course quickly pays for itself and is best practice, cost-effective training for GPs and practice teams, ensuring they both hit the target and get the point.

Written by Dr Stephen Richards, GP Regional Advisor for London.

The GP mythbuster 38: EOLC provides information about end of life care, the GP practice's role and how we will look at this important issue on our inspections. Please see link to access - <http://www.cqc.org.uk/content/gp-mythbuster-38-end-life-care>

"Numbers on GSF register have increased"

"Over 50% of patients who died were on GSF register"

"Half of the patients identified were non cancer"

*Comments from our first wave of GP practices completing the Silver programme
June 2015*

"GSF Going for Gold is the best way to achieve the DES in a way that enables and embeds good practice long term"

Dr Pete Nightingale GP Lancaster and former RCGP EOLC Lead

"The College is pleased to support GSF as a major component of the GP End of Life Care Strategy. GSF provides a standard against which we can measure our practice and a means to further Improve it."

Professor Nigel Mathers, Vice Chair, RCGP
